Intro.: A / D /

A D
They build wooden houses on frozen ponds In the summertime when the water's gone.

D A
Diagonal lines in their rolled-out lawns, and the sage always smells so pretty.

A D
But nobody cares where the birds have gone when the rain comes down on Babylon.

D A
The stonemason's phone rings all day long, and you gotta get back to the city.

D E
I build my house up on this rock, baby , every day with you.

A D
There's nothin' in that town I need after everything we've been through.

D E
Me out in my garden, and you out on your walk,

A D
Is all the distance this poor gir I can take without listenin' to you talk.

E / A / D /
I don't need their money, baby, just you and me on the rock. You and me on the rock.

A D
I built paper planes when I learned to fly, like a 747 fallin' out of the sky.

D A
I folded 'em crooked, and now I'm wonderin' why I could always end up in the water.

A D
But nobody's askin' why she lookin' so thin, why she's laughin' too hard, why she drinkin' again.

D A
A falling star, she's a paper plane, and she was goin' down when you caught her.

D E
I build my house up on this rock, baby , every day with you.

A D
There's nothin' in that town I need after everything we've been through.

D E
Me out in my garden, and you out on your walk,

A D
Is all the distance this poor gir I can take without listenin' to you talk.

E / A /
I don't need their money, baby, just you and me on the rock.

G D A E
It's an earthquake, it's a hard wind. It's a record-breakin' tide, and it is rollin' in.

G D E /
It's a big sea, but it can't touch you and me. It's just a water view, and what a view.

A / D / A / D /
I don't need their money, baby. Woo!

D E
I build my house up on this rock, baby , every day with you.

A D
